Subject: Message from Electronics Letters

Dear Mrs. Sirmayanti Sirmayanti

I am pleased to inform you that your paper ELL-2014-0164.R2 'Baseband tuning of Cartesian delta-sigma ($\Delta\Sigma$) RF upconverters' has been accepted for publication in Electronics Letters and will appear in a forthcoming issue in the next few weeks. A complimentary PDF post-print of your paper will be sent to you in due course.

To maintain the speed of publication, proofs are not sent to authors for checking before publication. Manuscripts should be ready for publication as submitted. However, if you do have a minor change you wish to make that does not affect the results of your paper please contact the office as soon as possible, and no later than one week from the date of this email. At this stage acceptable changes include correcting a crucial typo or adding an important acknowledgment; extensive changes to the paper cannot be accepted. Whilst our editorial team will do its best to ensure that requests are met, we reserve the right to refuse editorial changes at this stage if they are extensive or sent too late within the production schedule.

The IET now offers authors a choice of publication options. There is the standard Subscription Access option where authors assign copyright to the publisher; we are now also offering an Open Access option under one of four Creative Commons Licences, with the author retaining copyright for their work. If you choose to publish your paper Open Access please be aware that there is an Article Processing Charge (APC) of $1,150. Please see our Author Guide for more information: <http://digital-library.theiet.org/journals/author-guide>

You will be contacted shortly asking you to take a decision and sign either a copyright or licence form.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Helen Dyball
